

How to clean and care for your DMT® Sharpening Stone

After using a DMT diamond bench stone or sharpener, simply wet it (if it's not already lubricated with water) and wipe the slurry off with a rag. Slurry on the sharpener means the sharpener has done its job.

It's also recommended to deep clean the sharpener every once in a while. Use a common cleanser and scrub with a nylon brush or nylon pad. This will ensure the sharpener does not become clogged with slurry and will sharpen more effectively.

Make sure you dry the sharpener completely before storing away.
